The Toughest Hose We Carry—Made to Last!

Our Leonard premium commercial rubber hose is built tough. EPDM material stays flexible in extreme conditions and is abrasion, heat, and ozone resistant. Commercial applications and conditions can vary dramatically, and so can the water source. So we've built in some added features to ensure a durable hose.

With its heavier yarn, this hose delivers a high 600 psi burst strength (the highest of any hose we carry!). Plus with its six-sided cross-section, this hose has added kink resistance over typical round and octagonal rubber hoses. Its machined brass couplers offer extreme crush resistance while the orange color makes it easy to see in grass or dirt. Finally, it stays flexible in cold weather (down to -40° F) while it withstands hot water heat up to 180° F.

★★★★★ "This watering tube worked great for me in the ongoing Texas drought. It does a great job of soaking down the root zone slowly. I have had no problems at all with the AR20 product. I was concerned that wildlife such as raccoons, etc. might be a problem in this extreme drought, but they did not bother the tubes at all." – Kirk, TX

Slow, Even Watering Means Maximum Usage by the Tree, For Better Health

Use on turf, nursery plants, fruits, vegetables, row crops and more! ★★★★★ " I bought this saw last fall and have used it to cut some good material (up to the full length of the blade). I've been amazed with both the torque of the motor and the performance of the battery. As claimed in the ads, the battery maintains very constant output until it reaches the point of exhaustion and then recharges quickly. The oiler has also worked well. I had previously purchased a cordless saw with a NiCad and was not happy with its performance. I bought the new saw because of the Li battery and the hope it would be able to meet my needs. It has exceeded my expectations." – David W., NC

Teaming with Microbes

Healthy soil is teeming with life—not just earthworms and insects, but a staggering multitude of bacteria, fungi, and other microorganisms. When we use chemical fertilizers, we injure the microbial life that sustains healthy plants, and thus become increasingly dependent on an arsenal of artificial substances, many of them toxic to humans as well as other forms of life. But there is an alternative to this vicious circle: to garden in a way that strengthens, rather than destroys, the soil food web. The authors make the benefits of cultivating the soil food web available to a wide audience, from devotees of organic gardening techniques to weekend gardeners who simply want to grow healthy, vigorous plants without resorting to chemicals. 220 pages. FW3000 4-way Meter $35.99

How the meter works: The pH meter works by using different metals in the probes. When they are inserted in damp soil, the different metals react with each other to create an electrical current. The meter measures the electric current, and that's how it reads the soil pH. Like many metals exposed to dampness, over time, the metal on the right probe has a tendency to oxidize, which puts a coating on the probe, and prevents it from correctly working. That's why a cleaning pad is included. It is specifically designed to clean this probe. Tip: Make sure you clean the probe, moisten the soil and wet the probes before using each time.

★★★★★ "I LOVE this 4-way soil analyzer. I use it to check moisture, fertilizer and PH... I've had it for a few months and it's a real handy all-in-one tool. Better one little tool than 3 or 4 different tools. Thanks for making this space saver, money saver, trouble saver available for a reasonable price. Just one soil test can cost $10 so do the math." – M Reichardt, VA
